

Notice Anything New?

Have you visited kdc885.com recently? If so, you've probably noticed a few changes.

Our website has undergone a minor redesign, giving it a more polished look and feel. Along with those aesthetic updates, we've made a few changes that should present more accurate and expansive information in real time.

Over the coming weeks, we expect to see more adjustments to the website. Hopefully, we'll be introducing a few new features that you'll really like. Until then, we thank you for your patience, and we hope you enjoy everything the site has to offer.

And if you haven't checked out our website since the update, then what are you waiting for? Click the button below and join us at kdc885.com!

KDCR

Chizzy's Corner

I just wanted to pass along some brief recognition to Vaughn Donahue for all the work and guidance he's provided on KDCR's website redesign. Vaughn is an Instructor of Graphic Design at Dordt University, and he does a lot of freelance branding and design work with his organization, Destination Graphic.

The KDCR website should be easier to navigate today than it was just a few weeks ago. Whether it's news, weather, community events, etc., the information is more accurate and up-to-date. The work that has been done will allow us to better serve our community and our listeners.

As we continue to work on a few new features and website updates, we thank you for your patience. When it's all said and done, kdc885.com should be in a better position than it ever was before.
