Thank You

It goes without saying, but we have some awesome listeners.

The COVID-19 pandemic has affected all of our lives—past, present, and future. Some of us have been hit harder than others, and in these difficult, uncertain times, some of us are searching for hope.

It is in those moments where our community and our listeners shine. As Christians, we understand the importance of lending aid to those in need. It's a calling and a purpose.

Many of you joined us last week as we took steps to help a group of people who are facing a number of unknowns: Dordt University students. Together, we helped raise important donations for the Hope Fund, which strives to help those students facing financial hardships due to the COVID-19 pandemic.

So for that, we want to share our thanks. Thank you to those of you who felt a push and acted. Thank you to those of you who sat down and prayerfully considered the best course of action. Thank you to those of you who, despite facing your own uncertainty, reached out to help others.

We know that the work is far from over, and it will be some time before a new normal starts to take shape. But your generosity and your efforts have not gone unnoticed, and they are greatly appreciated.

If you feel the Hope Fund is a cause you'd like to support, the opportunity is still there. Just click on the button below, or visit dordt.edu/hope.

Thank you!
